

The Loven (Jruq)

The name of the 'Boloven' plateau literally means 'place of the Loven'. The word 'Loven' is a Lao designation—the Loven people refer to themselves as 'Jruq' in their own language. The locals have a legend that a Lao chief bought the right of suzerainty from a Jruq chief with a ring. The Laotian later stole back the ring, hence the Jruq ethnonym 'he who lost the ring' cf. Lao ພາວຸດໂລວັນ /lā? vĕn/ 'abandon ring' (Lavallée 1901: 291).

Map of Boloven Plateau & Se Kong river valley.
Bahnaric languages are indicated.

Die Deutsche Bibliothek - CIP-Einheitsaufnahme

Jacq, Pascale:

Loven (Jruq) consolidated lexicon / Pascale Jacq and Paul Sidwell. –

München ; Newcastle : LINCOM Europa, 1999

(Languages of the world : Dictionaries ; 23)

ISBN 3-89586-623-7

Published by LINCOM EUROPA 1999.